

2022 Youth Xchange Sponsored Category:

DON'T FORGET TUTU... AND POPOKI TOO!

Remember kupuna and pets when preparing for disasters

Hawaii is vulnerable to hurricanes, flooding, earthquakes, wildfires, and other disasters, like disease outbreaks. These events can happen at any time and disrupt our lives. Planning and preparing now may help you and your family endure a disaster better and recover more easily.

It's important to think of the entire family when planning for emergencies, and this includes our kupuna and pets. They may be more vulnerable when disaster strikes.

Use your creativity to develop a Public Service Announcement (PSA) that shows how we can include kupuna and pets in disaster planning.

Your PSA should be 45 to 90 seconds long.

Visit these websites for more information:

- <https://www.ready.gov/kids>
- <https://health.hawaii.gov/prepare/protect-your-family/make-a-plan/>
- <https://www.redcross.org/get-help/how-to-prepare-for-emergencies/pet-disaster-preparedness.html>